What you want:

A great career.

What we've got:

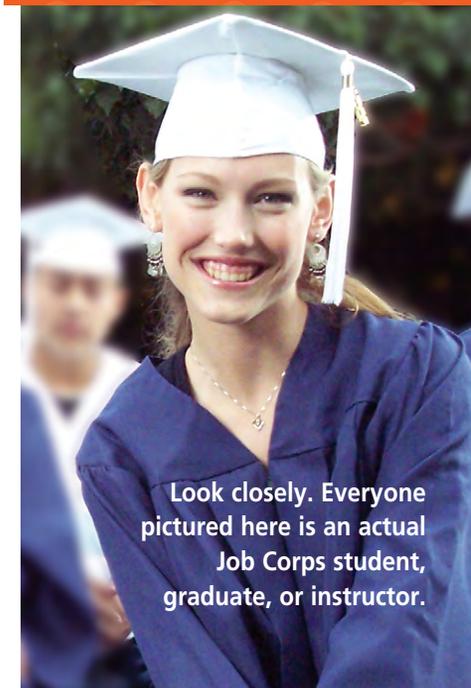

A comprehensive career technical training and education program for low-income young people ages 16 through 24 that will prepare you for success.

What you'll find at Job Corps:

- Career technical training in your chosen field.
- Hands-on experience with real employers.
- An opportunity to get your high school diploma or high school equivalency credential.
- Mentoring programs that pair you with center staff, career counselors, and community leaders.
- Help finding a job or pursuing higher education.
- Assistance for up to 21 months after you graduate.

We train you in the skills that the real world demands ...
at no cost to you.

Look closely. Everyone pictured here is an actual Job Corps student, graduate, or instructor.

Job Corps pays ...

during and after the program.

What you want:

- A better-paying job.
- Financial assistance while you learn.
- An experience that will jump-start your career.

What we'll give you:

Hands-on career technical training with real employers to make sure that the skills you learn are the ones you need.

Education that applies to real-world businesses. You can earn a high school diploma or high school equivalency credential at the same time that you are learning important career technical skills.

Money for each month you are in the program. But just like a real job, taxes are deducted from your allowance.

The path to a promising career. Job Corps works with you to develop a personalized career development plan including an area of training that will offer high-paying job opportunities.

Services to help you be healthy and happy. Job Corps students have access to on-center health clinics, and some centers even provide special programs for students who are single parents.

Help finding a job. Job Corps will help you develop interview skills, finalize your resume, and search for a job that matches your career technical skills training.

Job Corps delivers ...

everything you need to get started.

What we expect from you:

Hard work and determination to achieve your goals.

When you arrive:

- First: You'll learn your way around the Job Corps campus, meet your roommates, and begin to review the student handbook.
- Next: Once you're settled in, you'll get to work. You and your counselor will create your personalized career development plan, and you will prepare for training.
- and ... This is a government program, so be ready to fill out lots of paperwork!

What you can expect from us:

A commitment to help make your transition to center life as smooth as possible.

Job Corps life ...

What you want:

A place to learn and develop lasting friendships.

What we'll give you:

A safe environment that promotes your growth and development.

“Being away from family and friends, having a curfew, and having to follow a routine was difficult when I first got here. But then I realized that I was here to get an education, learn a trade, and improve my life. Suddenly, those things didn't matter. Job Corps was my ticket to a better life.”

– Elizabeth,
San Jose Job Corps Center

on and off center.

Evening/Weekend Activities

Gyms, recreation halls, sporting events, and visits to tourist sites are a few ways to stay busy at Job Corps when you're not training. On weekends, students also travel to malls, movies, and concerts.

Safety

Job Corps has a Zero Tolerance Policy against violence and drugs. Students who break this policy will be dismissed and will not be allowed to re-enter the program.

Visitation

If you live on center, you may be allowed to visit home, and your parent or guardian may schedule a visit to the center. Passes may be given for weekend visits with family, overnight trips off center, holidays, and emergency situations.

Life Is Green at Job Corps

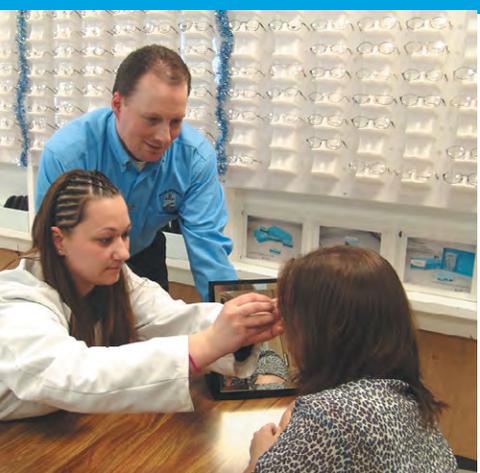

At Job Corps, protecting the environment is a top priority. Whether you're in the classroom, dorm, or training area, you'll see everyone on center working together to help Job Corps reduce its impact on the environment. Simple activities such as recycling and reducing water and energy usage make a big difference. A greener center means a cleaner, healthier, more energy-efficient place for you to live and train.

Job Corps supports ...

you as you transition into the real world.

What you might be thinking:

“Entering the workforce seems a little scary.”

Need help with:

- Employment?
- Health care?
- Housing?
- Transportation?

What we'll do to help:

Work with you for up to 21 months after you graduate.

Starting a new life involves lots of responsibilities, such as opening a bank account, finding day care for your child, and getting transportation to and from work. You'll be assigned a career transition counselor who will put you in touch with helpful community resources that provide these and many other services.

Be sure to stay in contact with your counselor after you've graduated ... you'll be glad you did!
